

Pyar, Ishq Aur Mohabbat

Real Love

www.karmayoga.life

“Ajj mera Coke peene ka mann kar raha hai, order place karta hun”

“No yaar, tumne dieting ka promise kiya tha khud se.”

“Mat utthao mujhe sone do please”

“Jaldi se utth jao kisi bhi haal mein apni classes miss nahi krni.”

“Ye vale topic ko bhi theek se ready karle yaar, mera toh ho gya. Phir dekhte hain hum dono mein se ye job kisko milti hai”

“Yaad hai na aaj humne Swami Vivekananda ji k center jaana hai, class lagaane...”

“Aaj maine nhi jaana yaar, mera mood kharaab hai”

“Mukka padega, chal utth ja chup chap...”

It's the love in which we support & care for our loved ones but

+ Not at the cost of their growth

+ We check, pointout & correct them when they are wrong

+ We help them to move forward but also to stay on the right track.

The love in which we don't hesitate to...

Point out - Speak out - Correct our loved ones

if they are doing something wrong or bad or harmful or getting out of the track of their own journey of progress or growth.

The common phrases related to this kind of love are “Best Friends”

“Progressive Partners”

But there are hardly any phrases used for them by our society because:

- + Sadly, these kind of lovers are not common in our world.
- + And they don't like to be highlighted in eyes of society
- + And even society doesn't know what to say about them...

The underlying belief of this love is Love is real only when are helping & supporting your loved ones in achieving their goal or becoming their best version.

A true lover will keep check whenever their loved ones get out of track of the path of growth or goal & correct them.

Lets us try to understand this with our example of our favorite
Raja - Rani

Example 1

When Rani is working for her Goal &
Raja is supporting, checking & correcting her in her path of growth.

Example 2

When Raja & Rani both are working on their own different goals & both are supporting, checking & correcting each other in their different path of growth.

Example 3

When Raja & Rani both are working for a same goal & both are supporting, checking & correcting each other on their mutual path of growth.

Points To Remember

I love you because you are also in love & committed to Something bigger than you Or to Your Goal Or to Your Growth
Or to something else with a Godlike stature.

As they say;
Real Love Always Involves Three.

What To Do:

It might be very hard but we have to ask ourselves & keep checking minutely, honestly & regularly that Are we allowing our well wishers to keep check on if we are on the right track towards our goal & to point out, speak out & correct us whenever needed.

The hard & clear fact about this love is:

This love might sound hard and not socially admired as compare to Caring Love.
But in this love it is clear that “I care for your progress more than what is pleasing to your ears.”
