

Pyar, Ishq Aur Mohabbat

Being Love

www.karmayoga.life

“Tu ganda bachcha hai, main God se kahunga tere ghar rain na ho...”

“Lekin mere ghar toh rain hui thi kal, bda mazza aaya., uuuuuu :p”

“Vo flowers ko pasand nahi krta, lekin fir bhi flowers use khushboo kyun dete hain...?”

“Mummy hum sab bhai behno mein se aapka favorite kon hai?”

“Beti aap sab hi mere favorite ho :)”

“Babaji hamesha sabko hi blessings kyun de deta hain..?”

“Bhagwaan bure logon ki bhi madad kyun krta hai...?”

“Shivji ne Raavan aur Ram dono ko hi vardaan kyun diye?”

It is a type of love which does not know how to differentiate, discriminate,
qualify, and check before loving anyone.

This is a kind of love in which neither there is ego, nor there is any ownership.

The love in which
neither there is any personal gain, nor there is any condition.

The love in which
there is no control, no demand,
no dominance, no addiction & even no expectation.

In case of other type of love:

I love you because:

“I like you”

“you are mine”

“you care for me”

“I like being with you”

“I am addicted to you”

“you make me feel happy”

“you make me feel fulfilled”..... etc

Whereas in this type of love, if we try to reason it :

I love you because:

“I don't know anything else than loving”

“I love you because its not in my control”

“I love you because it is outcome of being me”

I love you because ... No love is not a thing to do...

Love is a state of being

I love you because..... "I am love"

Where other uses:

"Do Love" — "In Love" — "Feel Love"

This love says

"Be Love"

Strangely It's not even like the highest type love which we could see,
experience and think of that is Mother's Love.

Its beyond the boundaries of levels.

Because mother's unconditional, limitless love is still limited for her children.

Where as this kind of love is for everyone.

The kind of love which we see in Nature.

Like:

Flowers don't choose whom to give fragrance and whom to not.

Sun don't choose to where to shine

Rains don't choose where to fall

And so on....

Spreading love is itself a part of their being.

“They Love because They Exist”

It's the highest form of love which we are continually getting twenty four seven and hopefully we will someday become this love too.

The Common phrases relates to this love:

NONE

Because this love is so much easily & in ample quantity available for us that we fail to even recognise it.

And if we ever notice it,
we deliberately ignore its presence because
it can make us feel so much small, self centered, unworthy, thankless, shameful & guilty at the same time.

So much comfortable, convenient & safe for us is to no to talk about it commonly.

Points To Remember

That this love exists.

And the ones whom we bow down to; nature, realised beings or God,
they themselves are the example of this love.

Everything from Sky, Air, Water, Fire, Earth, Flora & Fauna
is the proof of this love.

What To Do

Just acknowledge that in each are every moment of our life is possible only because of this love.

And then do the least which we can do
as a sign of our payback of this kind of love (which we can't do, but we can just try to duplicate)

is by being a live example of
at least a small fraction of such love.

Because as they say:

“The best way to Payback is;
Pay it forward”
